IMMEDIATE RELEASE

USD EXPERIMENTAL COLLEGE COURSES BEGIN OCTOBER 6

SAN DIEGO, CALIF.--The Experimental College at the University of San Diego will open its second year with an offering of 30 courses, seven days a week scheduled, Coordinator for Experimental College, Gregory Daulton, announced.

The brochure with course descriptions and time and location of classes will be available through the Experimental College office, located in the USD Library. The courses are open to students and the general public without charge, Daulton said. Further information is available by calling 291-6480, ext 340, and asking for Daulton or Tim Hermsen, the other co-ordinator.

Classes begin Oct. 6, and will meet in either the Library or the Student Union, with the exception of physical education, which will be given at the sports center.

Other courses to be offered include "The Modern University Student," "Constructive Change," "Insurance," "Marriage," "Community Control of Police," "Folk Guitar," "Ceramics and Crafts," "The Rising Chicano," "Auto Mechanics," "Christian Mysticism," "Police in the Community," "Rock Music," "Relative Christianity." Also "Liberty and Human Rights," "Natural Health," "Underwater Activity," "Krishna Consciousness," "Sex and Racism," "History of Science Fiction," "The Developing American Indian Community," "Karate," "Basic Photography," "Environmental Awareness," and several courses entitled "Encounter."
